LECTURERS / SENIOR LECTURERS IN TEACHER EDUCATION

2.5 full time equivalent - September 2019 start

Lecturer Grade 7: £33,199 - £37,345

Senior Lecturer Grade 8: £38,460 – £48,677

Plymouth Marjon is a small University, with a strong sense of community, centred on student success. Marjon has been training teachers for almost 180 years, we have a strong vision of excellence for our partnership. The Plymouth Marjon Teacher Education Partnership is a values-based collaborative partnership that ensures excellent outcomes for pupils, trainees and teachers.

We believe that each staff member contributes directly to the University's growth and success, with our values at the heart of everything we do.

Marjon continues to experience significant development, and we have an ambitious learning, research and engagement agenda. Staff are encouraged and supported to be innovative in their teaching, enabling students to thrive and build firm foundations in their chosen field.

The Marjon Teacher Education Partnership (Marjon TEP) is locally and nationally renowned for producing high quality teachers who are not only job ready but promotion ready, our Teacher Education graduates earn some of the highest wages in the South West and Wales, being in demand for their leadership potential (DFE Leo Data 2018). All members of the Marjon TEP (University, schools, colleges and other settings) are strongly engaged in the ITE partnership and are responsible for improvement and for the promotion of high-quality teaching and learning for trainees and pupils.

We are looking for staff to join the Marjon team predominantly working on primary undergraduate and postgraduate routes into teaching. We would be particularly interested in those that could offer one or more of the following:

- Humanities subjects
- STEM
- English and the arts
- Early years as subject specialisms.

You will have significant recent experience of teaching in schools and/or in a teacher educator role in University or School led system, hold QTS, with the ability to teach on a variety of modules at undergraduate and postgraduate level, the ability to work cross phase and contribute to Secondary ITE provision would be an advantage. You will have a considerable amount of interaction with students, tutorial input and wider contribution to the activities of the programmes and school. Marjon TEP academics are strongly engaged in research or knowledge exchange activities and those entering the team would be expected to contribute to this area of work.
